Notice regarding working days of Half Yearly Examination

20/08/2022

Dear Parent/s,

As per the mode of studies and examinations followed earlier in the Annual Examinations of March 2022 and based upon latest inputs received from the staff members on the continuing damage caused by 'Corona Epidemic' phase both on the 'academics' and 'academic discipline' of the children it has been thought proper to run the examination (the month relating to Half Yearly Examination) in a manner similar to March 2022 Annual Examinations.

As a result of the above the following steps will be taken :

- i) That studies/academics of children will continue during the examination phase.
- ii) Teachers will continue instructing and revising the syllabus towards various examinations.

It is readily stated here that while the same teaching and examination schedule was conducted for the Annual Examination March 2022 the attendance was not more than 40% of the students on non-examination days.

- iii) Parents in consultation with their children are welcome to take their own decision of their child attending school on non-examination days and whereas the school on its part out-rightly recommends that children should be attending school on non-examination days, which has been debated at the end of the school and found to be educationally correct.

The further important points are as follows:

- i) For the days of the Examinations the children will attend for the entire day and not be taken home after the examination of the day. The work timings of examination and non-examination days are 8:10 a.m. to 1:45 p.m. and parents should not be coming earlier to school to pick up their children.
- ii) For children not attending on non-examination days and whereas otherwise using bus service, their parents are required to be informing the driver of the bus of their child not needing bus service.

Any other doubt may be clarified by calling at the school reception.
