Clouds

English
21.10.24.

Clouds is a poem in which the poet assumes clouds as sheep. As the clouds were white and fluffy. They resembled sheep.

The poet says it seems as if they are on a blue hill.

As the wind stops, they all stand still as moves only when the wind blows. The poet is asking where the clouds are going.

So children, let us re-read the poem and do the exercises.
