2. Body of the paragraph or supporting details: A few sentences that give more relevant information about the topic.
3. Conclusion: A concluding statement that concludes the paragraph logically.

Children, now let us start with the topic
'The Recess Period'

The recess period is the most welcome period in schools. It is generally a break of about half an hour in the middle of the day's work. As soon as the bell for the recess period rings, the students rush out of their rooms. There is a great rush at the washrooms. Lunch boxes are shared with each other. Some play in the playground while others chit-chat and share jokes. In short, the whole school becomes lively and noisy. There is excitement and noise everywhere. Teachers also refresh themselves
