Good morning students

Students this lesson is for class IV for the subject of English Literature in which Chapter 12, Snakebite is covered and is being submitted to you on 1.10.24

One day, the narrator saw a small snake in the fenced area outside the house. When the snake saw the narrator, it moved quickly and hid itself in a coconut shell. The narrator closed the mouth of the coconut shell with a stone. He took the shell and ran to Grandmother. When he told her about the snake, she cried for help. Grandfather came running and threw it away. Grandfather warned him never to go near a snake because snakes were very dangerous. In the evening, a bee stung the narrator on his finger. He felt a sharp pain. He went to Grandmother and told her that he had been bitten and wanted something to stop the pain. Grandmother thought that he had been bitten by a snake. Suddenly, Grandfather came and without asking him anything, he started running.

He ran across the garden and through the rice fields. He reached a small house and shouted for the man who lived there. Grandfather told him to cure the narrator for snakebite. He looked at his finger and asked him to sit down and not to move. The old man took some water in a small brass pot and started reciting some verses chanted in prayer. The narrator wanted to tell him that it was not a snakebite but his Grandfather did not allow him to speak. By the time, Grandmother and some other people watched them silently. Then the pain in his finger had stopped. The old man got up, washed his finger and gave him some water to drink. Everyone thanked him for the magic cure. On returning home, Grandfather sent him gifts.
