

CLASS: IXSUBJECT: ENGLISH LITERATURE

(iv) On receiving this information Kamal Kishore called out to barber Deep Chand who was his friend. He passed on this information to his friend because he had an account in the bank. Kamal wanted that his friend should be on his guard.

(v) No, Kamal Kishore did not have an account in the bank. Immediately, he passed on this information to his barber friend Deep Chand because he had an account in Pipal Nagar bank.

Passage 5

(i) Kamal Kishore's neighbour referred to here is Deep Chand, the barber. By profession Deep Chand is a barber.

(ii) When Deep Chand received the latest news about the bank, he was cutting the hair of an elderly gentleman. He was so startled that his hand shook. As a result of it he nipped his customer's right ear.

(iii) When the elderly customer's ear was nipped he cried with pain and distress. He was pained because of the cut and distressed because he had heard the awful news. He ran across the road to the general merchant's shop to enquire on telephone if the news was true.

CLASS: IX

SUBJECT: ENGLISH LITERATURE

(iv) The elderly man dialled Seth Govind Ram's number in the general merchant's shop. The Seth was not at home, he was holidaying with his family in Kashmir. He concluded that the Seth had run away.

(v) Actually, Seth Govind Ram was in Kashmir enjoying a holiday. He knew nothing about the rumour in his absence. He did not know what all had happened in Pipalnagar.

Note:

Passage 6 and 7 are already covered in Homework.